Created a media log.

Analyzed the data from my media log.

Participated in a discussion about my own media use as well as the media use of the other students in my class.

Watched the video on Digital Citizenship.

Participated in a discussion about the video.

Completed the Rings of Responsibility handout.

Read and completed the checklist to the right.

I will keep myself safe.

I will not give out any personal information, like my age, last name, address or phone number or meet someone I've met online.

I will tell my parents or an adult I trust if anything happens online that makes me feel uncomfortable, upset or sad.

I will not share my password with anyone other than my parents or teacher, not even my best friend.

I will set privacy controls and discuss with my parents when I want to create a social networking profile.

I will think first.

I agree that not all TV shows, movies, games, music and websites are right for me. I will talk to my parents or teachers if I am not sure what is appropriate.

I know that not everything I read or see is true and I will think about whether a source is credible.

I agree not to download anything or fill out surveys without my parent's or teachers permission.

I know that the pictures and videos I post online, and everything that I write about will likely be online forever. I will not put anything online that I wouldn't want my parents, teachers, college admissions or future bosses to see.

I will be a good digital citizen.

I will agree not to bully anyone online or on my cell phone by sending pictures or sharing videos without the permission of the person(s) in the photo/video, or by spreading gossip, setting up fake profiles or saying cruel things about people.

I agree not to use technology to cheat in games or on schoolwork.

I agree to flag and report content that is inappropriate.

I will keep a healthy balance.

Even though I love media, there are other things in my life that I'm interested in. So I will be sure to save room in my day to experience a variety of activities.
